SHERIFF’S OFFICE CONDUCTS SEX REGISTRANT COMPLIANCE CHECKS
U.S. Marshals Service and 12 Local Agencies Participate

San Mateo County, California: On February 23, 2011, 37 law enforcement officers from the San Mateo County Sheriff’s Office, San Mateo County Adult Probation, U.S. Marshals Service and local city police departments conducted a county-wide compliance check and Probation/Parole search of 160 registered sex offenders. The county-wide check was staffed by 13 law enforcement agencies which covered nine cities and rural coastal areas of the County. From 6:00AM to 6:00PM, 11 law enforcement teams checked to make sure that the sex offenders were living in their registered locations and, for those who are on probation or parole, were in compliance with their conditions of probation or parole.

The names of the 160 sex offenders were submitted by local city police agencies, San Mateo County Probation and California Adult Parole to the Sheriff’s Office for this compliance check. Sheriff’s Detective Sergeant Bryan Raffaelli and Deputy U.S. Marshal Frank Oglesby organized and supervised the operation. Follow-up checks will be conducted on those registrants who were not contacted to determine their compliance status and the names of registrants who are known to have fled to other states have been given to the U.S. Marshals Service.

This operation included federal, state and local law enforcement agencies for the purpose of better tracking and monitoring the registered sex offenders living in San Mateo County. Future collaborative operations are being planned.
